

HEADQUARTERS 372ND INFANTRY
OFFICE OF THE REGIMENTAL COMMANDER

ARD-OH

Fort Dix, New Jersey,
May 1, 1941.

Mrs. Effa Manley,
101 Montgomery St.,
Newark, New Jersey.

My dear Mrs. Manley:

The pleasure would be all mine if you and your secretary would pay the regiment another visit in connection with the ball game.

You, perhaps, are aware of the visit made to Newark last Tuesday by Captain Clay, our Service Company Commander, who was unable to see you, but talked with someone in your office concerning parking facilities for our ninety vehicles; perhaps you will have the information when you visit us.

This office has been in touch with Mr. Queen and Doctor Morris of Trenton concerning the State Police motorcycle escort, which has been assured by Colonel Kemberling, the New Jersey State Police Superintendent.

Looking forward to a pleasant hour or two on the date specified, I am

Sincerely yours,

Alexander R. Davis
ALEXANDER R. DAVIS,
Lt Col., 372nd Infantry,
Executive